SECOND SUPPLEMENT TO NOTICE OF OFFER

To the Holders of

GOLD RESERVE INC.
5.50% Senior Subordinated Convertible Notes
Due June 15, 2022

CUSIP 38068N AB4

On September 18, 2012, Gold Reserve Inc. (the “Company” or “GR”) commenced an offer to holders (the “Holders”) of 5.50% Senior Subordinated Convertible Notes due 2022 (the “Notes”), upon the terms and subject to the conditions described in the Offer, dated September 18, 2012, as amended and supplemented (the “original Offer, as amended and supplemented”) and the accompanying letters of transmittal.

The Company, by this Second Supplement, supplements the original Offer, as amended and supplemented, to provide additional disclosure with respect to the contingent value rights to be issued by the Company.

Except as otherwise set forth in this Second Supplement, the terms and conditions set forth in the original Offer, as amended and supplemented, and the related letters of transmittal remain applicable in all respects. To the extent that any information or amendment contained in this Second Supplement is inconsistent with the information in the original Offer, as amended and supplemented, the information and amendments set forth in this Second Supplement shall control. Unless the context indicates otherwise, terms used in this Second Supplement and the original Offer, as amended and supplemented, have the meanings given to them in the original Offer, as amended and supplemented.

The Expiration Date for holders of the Notes to tender their Notes has been extended by the Company to 11:59 p.m., Eastern Time, on November 23, 2012.

None of GR or its board of directors or employees are making any recommendation to any Holder as to whether to surrender or refrain from surrendering Notes pursuant to the Offer. Each Holder must make his, her or its own decision whether to surrender his, her or its Notes pursuant to the Offer and, if so, the principal amount of Notes to surrender based on their own assessment of current market value and other relevant factors.

ADDITIONAL RISK FACTORS

The Company does not know when its arbitration proceedings against Venezuela will be completed.

The Company understands that numerous pending arbitration actions are being pursued against Venezuela at this time before the ICSID (See ICSID website at <http://icsid.worldbank.org/ICSID/>) and further understands that Venezuela has reportedly settled and/or made full or partial payment for damages to a limited number of claimants. ICSID Arbitrations are non-public proceedings and, as a result, we have no specific information regarding the actual amounts paid or what percentage such payments represented of the original claim against Venezuela or the timing of such payments. The Company understands that tribunals for similar arbitration proceedings typically require six to eighteen months from the date of the oral hearing to finalize and issue a decision. Based on information available to the Company, the historical ICSID average appears to be approximately 1.2 years. The Company's arbitration hearing was held in February 2012. Notwithstanding the historical average, based on the uncertain nature of arbitration under investment treaties, the Company does not have a basis upon which to estimate the timing or the amount of an award or settlement, if any, or the likelihood of its collection. Accordingly, there can be no assurances that the Company's arbitration proceedings will be completed or settled within any specific or reasonable period of time, the Company will receive any award or settlement or that any award or settlement will be paid within any specific or reasonable period of time following the award or settlement, if any.

The Company may not receive any payment or compensation with respect to its mining data.

The Company describes in "ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING THE CONTINGENT VALUE RIGHT" management's estimate of the value of the mining data, which is based on the Company's determination of the amount it would consider accepting in connection with any sale or transfer of its mining data. The Company's determination is not based on the value of the Company's assets set forth in its financial statements, but represents the Company's estimates of the costs incurred by the Company in developing the Brisas Project, all of which costs have been written off. Costs were incurred by the Company with respect to extensive exploration including geology, geophysics and geochemistry, approximately 975 drill holes totaling over 200,000 meters of drilling, independent audits of drilling, sampling, assaying procedures and ore reserves methodology, environmental baseline work/socioeconomic studies, hydrology studies, geotechnical studies, mine planning, advanced stage grinding and metallurgical test work, tailings dam designs, milling process flow sheet designs, Environmental Impact Statement and Bankable Feasibility Study, including a number of subsequent updates, and an independent CSA National Instrument 43-101 report. The fair market value of the Company's mining data is unknown. The Company does not have a basis upon which to estimate the fair market value of the mining data. There can be no assurances that the Company will sell its mining data or receive payment of an amount equal or more than the amount it has expressed it would consider accepting in connection with any sale or transfer of its mining data. Accordingly, there can be no assurances that the Company will receive any payment or compensation with respect to its mining data.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING THE CONTINGENT VALUE RIGHT

Below is a chart illustrating amounts that might be payable with respect to the CVR to the Holders of the 1.3% of outstanding Notes, assuming the maximum 0.07% possible payout percentage if all Other Holders elect to participate and their Notes are accepted by the Company. There can be no assurances that the Company will receive any money or other consideration with respect to its arbitration proceeding or any sale of the Company's mining data, equipment and related assets. Accordingly, there can be no assurances that the CVR will have any value in the future.

The CVR payout calculations per thousand in the chart are based on hypothetical amounts that might be received by the Company with respect to an arbitration award, arbitration settlement, mining data sale or a related transaction. Management's presentation of these hypothetical amounts are not an indication of management's expectations with respect to future outcomes. The calculations are provided for illustrative purposes.

The minimum value presented represents the management's estimate of the costs to independently duplicate the mining data, equipment and related assets and a sales price that management would consider if the Company were to receive an offer for such assets. The maximum value represents the current amount requested by the Company to be awarded by the arbitration tribunal. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in obtaining any award or other compensation through a settlement or asset sale or that the Company will be successful in collecting any portion of such amounts.

¹ The terms of the CVR limit the amount of the professional fees and expenses that may be excluded to $10,000,000 and the amount of the accrued and unpaid operating expenses that may be excluded to $1,000,000.

² Change of Control payments payable only in connection with a change of control of the Company.

The hypothetical payout amounts shown above include deductions for (A) a hypothetical maximum corporate tax rate of 35%, (B) redemption of Modified Notes assuming they have not already been redeemed prior to an award, (C) an estimate of the maximum of other current obligations of the Company including a success fee related to arbitration (as referenced in the CVR) and (D) estimated Change of Control payments that may be payable under certain circumstances.

The Company may be required to pay to employees having Change of Control Agreements an aggregate amount of approximately $15 million. Such amount would be payable from the hypothetical award or proceeds shown in the table above only in connection with a change of control of the Company. The terms of the CVR limit the amount of the professional fees and expenses that may be excluded from the calculations of the amount distributable to CVR holders to $10,000,000 and the amount of the accrued and unpaid operating expenses that may be excluded to $1,000,000.

Proceeds that may be received by the Company with respect to any arbitration award or settlement or the sale of mining data may be in the form of cash, securities, commodities, bonds or other non-cash consideration. The Company is unable at this time to predict the form of any non-cash consideration that it may receive with respect to any arbitration proceeding or award or sale of its mining data.

Prior to agreeing to accept any non-cash consideration as all or part of any proceeds that the Company reasonably determines in good faith would be impracticable to apportion (an "Undistributable Asset"), the Company will notify its largest noteholder (determined on the basis of the principal amount of Modified Notes then outstanding). The Company may not agree to accept any Undistributable Asset without the consent of its largest noteholder. The Company will negotiate with its largest noteholder a mutually agreeable disposition of the Undistributable Asset for the benefit of the Large Noteholders in accordance with the terms of the CVR held by the Large Noteholders.

Holder of CVRs other than the Large Noteholders will be paid cash by the Company in an amount equal to the fair market value of their pro rata interest in the Undistributable Asset, net of such Holder's pro rata percentage of the excluded amounts specified in the CVR, in lieu of any distribution by the Company to such Holders of interests in any Undistributable Asset. The fair market value of any Undistributable Asset shall be determined by the independent members of the Company's Board of Directors in consultation with the Company's largest noteholder. The Board may retain such experts as the Board may determine appropriate to assist the Board in determining the fair market value of the Undistributable Asset and the amount of cash to be distributed with respect to CVRs delivered to Holders other than the Large Noteholders.

If the Company, after reaching an agreement with its largest noteholder, distributes all or part of an Undistributable Asset to the Large Noteholders, each such Holder shall receive the percentage of such Undistributable Asset specified in such holder's CVR. The Company shall take all actions as such holder may reasonably request to record, certificate and/or otherwise effectuate the Large Noteholders' ownership of such undivided interest.

The form of the CVR is attached as Exhibit C to the Second Amended and Restated Subordinated Note Restructuring Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 99.1 to the Company's Report on Form 6-K filed with the SEC on September 18, 2012.
